

We are transitioning to CertaSite

Hello Valued Customer,

Recently, we announced that Weber Fire and Safety will now be known as CertaSite. We are the same crew you have come to know and love, but with a new look and even more customer power behind us than ever before. We are on a mission to protect as many lives as possible and to provide you the most dependable and simplified solution to managing your fire protection and life safety needs.

The Transition to CertaSite

While we know change is difficult, we have every intention of making this the easiest transition you have ever experienced. We encourage you to visit our website to learn more or visit our frequently asked questions page by clicking the button below.

What This Means for You

What does this mean for you as our customer? You will enjoy the same service you've had, with better customer service, administration support, and advancements like:

- 24/7 online customer portal
- Inspection management and reporting
- Expanded service areas
- Life safety maintenance programs
- Multi-location support

Thank you,

Tim Walsh
General Manager
